Author Rights: AAS grants to the author(s) (or their below-named employers, in the case of works made for hire) the following rights. All copies of the Article made under any of these rights shall include notice of the AAS copyright.

- (1) All proprietary and statutory rights other than copyright, such as patent rights.
- (2) The right after publication by the AAS to grant or refuse permission to third parties to republish all or part of the Article or a translation thereof. In the case of whole articles only, third parties must first obtain permission from the AAS before any right of further publication is granted. The AAS may choose to publish an abstract or portions of the Article before the AAS publishes it in a journal.
- (3) The right to use all or part of the Article in future works and derivative works of their own of any type, and to make copies of all or part of the Article for the authors' use for educational or research purposes.
- (4) In the case of a work made for hire, the right of the employer to make copies of the Article for the employer's internal use, but not for resale.

Copyright Assignment: Copyright in the Article is hereby transferred to the AAS for the full term of copyright throughout the world, effective as of date of acceptance of the Article for publication in a journal of the AAS. The copyright consists of all rights protected by copyright laws of the United States and of all foreign countries, in all languages and forms of communication, and includes all material to be published as part of the Article in any format or medium. The AAS shall have the right to register copyright to the Article in its name as claimant, whether separately or as part of the journal issue or other medium in which the Article is included.
